

Fairfield Museum New Board Nominees for the Class of 2029

James Accomando

Jim and his family are long term residents of Fairfield where his wife Wendy is employed as an educator and Jim incorporated his global management and marketing consulting firm. Jim has an MBA in Finance and has more than 40 years of experience in the payment systems and loyalty marketing space for Fortune 500 companies. He worked at Mastercard International and GE prior to creating his own firm in 1994.

Jim has served in all aspects of scouting, including President of the CT Yankee Council (2023-2025). He also devotes his time to education where he most recently held the position of President of the National PTA in Washington DC (2017-2019) and has served in PTA leadership capacities as state and local President. Jim has a lifelong passion for history and historical preservation. He is a member of Fairfield's Historic District Commission, a past member of the Fairfield Museum's Finance Committee (2013-2025) and is currently a Fairfield Museum Docent.

Sandy Bisset

Sandy grew up in Fairfield and returned to Fairfield after practicing corporate law at Dewey, Ballantine in New York City. She and her husband raised their three sons in Fairfield. A graduate of Cornell University and Columbia University School of Law, she is winding up her law practice in Southport which focuses on trust & estates. Locally, she has served on the boards of the Pequot Yacht Club, The Southport School, and the Fairfield Garden Club. She currently serves on the boards of the Southport Area Association and the Pine Creek Association. She also served for many years on the board of the James P. Penney Foundation as Secretary and Chair of its board.

Jill Littig

Jill Littig's career began in Philadelphia and New York in the financial services industry with a focus on marketing, but gave way to suburban life with the arrival of "Gen Z" children. Volunteer posts and board positions during that time have been with the Fairfield school system, area sports programs, St. Paul's Church, the Fairfield Museum, and Sasqua Garden Club. In 2023 Jill received an MFA in Creative Writing from Fairfield University and works as an editor, ghost writer, and creator of fiction and creative non-fiction manuscripts. She lives in the university area of Fairfield with her husband, a revolving door of part-time resident children, a flock of chickens, a Tibetan terrier, and in the warmer months, a contemptuous and demanding fruit and vegetable garden.
