

Fairfield Museum

AND HISTORY CENTER

Position Title: DIRECTOR OF PROGRAMS AND EDUCATION
Reports To: Executive Director
Level: Senior Management, Full Time Exempt
Supervises: Student Programs Manager, Program Coordinator, program assistants, docents, interns and volunteers.

Function: Responsible for the development, implementation and administration of all Fairfield Museum public programs, expanding the Museum's outreach and building productive community partnerships to promote the Museum as a dynamic regional center for arts and humanities education. Supervises education staff in the delivery of K-12 student programs & professional development programs for educators.

Duties:

Public Programs

- Develop and implement a regular schedule of creative arts and humanities-based programs for adults, seniors, families and the general public, including lecture series, evening and weekend programs, and summer performances on the outdoor Museum Commons.
- Lead collaborations with regional cultural partners to create programs, events and activities that welcome new audiences and constituencies.
- Supervise staff in establishing and monitoring performance goals and metrics for public and student programs, including data collection, analysis and reporting. Design and implement strategies for growing program attendance.
- In coordination with the Museum's curatorial team, plan and implement programming and activities that complement Museum exhibits.
- Work closely with other staff to ensure collaborative planning and successful promotion of all programs.

Education Programs

- Oversee education staff, docents and interns in the development and delivery of K-12 educational programming, as well as professional development programs for teachers that support local, state and national curricular goals.
- Coordinate education staff in developing and implementing strategies for providing expanded educational programming for underserved communities and schools.
- Oversee docent recruitment, training, evaluation and supervision to ensure high quality program delivery.

Administration:

- Develop and manage departmental budget in accordance with established goals and metrics.
- Supervise departmental staff, establish and monitor annual performance goals.
- Oversee the Museum's program reservation system.
- Identify and implement opportunities for increasing program-related earned income.
- Prepare program-related grant applications and oversee grant-related record keeping and reporting.

- Work with museum staff to produce program-related publications, brochures and marketing resources.

Job Requirements:

Applicants should bring creative energy, enthusiasm and good humor to their work, hold a Master's Degree in education, history or related field—or sufficient skills and experience equivalent to an advanced degree—and ideally 3-5 years of relevant work experience in developing creative public programs. Applicants should also clearly demonstrate their ability and experience with:

- Designing and presenting programs for diverse and intergenerational audiences.
- Leading creative program collaborations with diverse individuals, cultural organizations and community groups.
- Implementing and interpreting audience evaluations and performance metrics.
- Inspiring and managing a diverse team of staff, interns and volunteers.
- Developing programs that generate revenue and expand audiences.
- Being an energetic self-starter, creative problem solver, effective leader and enthusiastic advocate of the Fairfield Museum's mission and programs
- Communicating verbally and in writing with a variety of audiences.
- Possess an organized and efficient work ethic, and the ability to simultaneously balance multiple projects in a fast-paced environment.
- Managing budgets, contracts and working within tight deadlines.
- Working effectively with Microsoft Office, project management software and other tools necessary to design, implement and promote Museum programs.

This is a full-time position requiring occasional evening and weekend hours. The position will require employee to lift, bend, stoop, walk, speak and stand for up to 7 hours in a day. Salary range is in the mid $50K with a generous benefit package including health, disability, life insurance and 401K.
